you want to have the collage located 5 pixels from the left edge. The next step is to change the color of the inserted collage. To do this, use the magic wand tool to select the collage (make sure you select it properly so that it only covers the area you want).

Next, change the color mode to grayscale and press CTRL+I to invert the colors. Finally, make some tweaks to the color and lightness/darkness of the collage. See the complete tutorial here. 2. Fatten images To adjust the blur of the image: 1. Select the image you want to be blurred. 2. Q: Converting configurable products to simple products We have a Magento instance that sells a configurable product (Jams & Jellies) with three different flavors (Strawberry, Mango, Banana). We'd like to create a "Simple Product" for each flavor, and every Jams & Jellies product would be of that flavor. I see the setting for "Allowed Configurable Products" is set to "No". Is this something I should have changed? If so, how? Or do we need to move the entire catalog to simple products, since we are selling it from multiple cities? A: I don't know why you would want to go through the hassle of going through and converting this. Since you said you have multiple stores - I think it would be best to just move the entire configurable product to the simple product. Not only will you get the simplification, but that way your prices in your catalog will all match those in the catalogue of the other stores and you won't have to worry about the rules for "allowed configurables" [Seasonal variability of the vertical distribution of phytoplankton in the eastern and southern basins of the Gulf of Nicoya]. The contribution of water columns to the magnitude of phytoplankton biomass in the eastern and southern basins of the Gulf of Nicoya was analyzed from measurements of the vertical distribution of nutrients, chlorophyll a, and total suspended matter. The results were evaluated against the variability of the N/P and chlorophyll a/total suspended matter (Chla/TSM) ratios in the upper waters of the stratified basins. Biomass was greater in the summer than during the rest of the year. However, there was seasonal variability of production and residence times of phytoplankton in the eastern and southern basins. During the dry season, this was due to a reduction in nutrient levels, specifically of nitrate and phosphate. In the rainy season, the situation was reversed, increasing nitrate and phosphate levels and resulting in a greater residence time of phytoplankton in the water column and in greater magnitude of biomass. This is because both stratification and vertical shear increased during the rainy season. An increase in nitrate and phosphate levels in the water column induced the growth of diatoms and favored the formation of large phytoplanktonic aggregates.
