Why? He's a different guy now. And a good one. In four games over his rookie season, the former Fresno State signal caller has a 1.6 passer rating, five touchdowns and one pick. By throwing the ball well, Sanchez has added a dimension that Mark Barron and Darrelle Revis simply don't bring. "He's been doing a pretty good job playing within the system," said Brock Osweiler, Sanchez's teammate in New York. "He's doing a good job understanding what he's supposed to do in certain situations. And he's doing a good job of making good decisions." Sanchez also has been almost unstoppable throwing to his favorite target. "He definitely is getting separation with his arm talent," said Osweiler. "He's showing quick feet and he's a good reader of the field and when to throw the ball and when to run." Denver Broncos QB Mark Sanchez (2) is hit by Cincinnati Bengals CB Richard Goodman (21) during the first half of an NFL football game on Sunday, 6d1f23a050
